“ At the heart of our investment philosophy is the belief that companies that can sustainably grow revenue, earnings and cash flow at a faster rate than the market offer the best opportunities to compound long-term shareholder returns. We implement the philosophy across the entire market-cap spectrum to capitalise on the best investments.

—THOMAS OGNAR

Our approach

Broad mandate

The broad US universe—the world’s largest and most diversified market—provides access to an unparalleled wealth of investment opportunity. We seek to capitalise on the best of those opportunities through the flexibility to invest in the best companies across the market-cap spectrum.

Holistic research capability

Fundamental, proprietary research coverage—including a company’s suppliers, customers, competitors and other sources—across the market-cap spectrum provides a complete view of industry dynamics and enhances the team’s ability to recognise opportunities that are attractively priced and intrinsically sound.

Unique, proven sell discipline

The team’s sell discipline conjoins the investment process with a robust risk management framework, such that share positions are modified whenever the gap between a company’s true earnings power and the market’s expectations narrow, thereby avoiding deteriorating growth before it is captured in the share price. The performance of all sell decisions is rigorously tracked for the subsequent six-month period to demonstrate the value added.

Sustainable investing

- The team takes an intensive, research-based approach to ESG assessment, analysing a company’s ESG strategy and initiatives, performance trajectory and ESG-related revenue streams that can help the company create a sustainable growth profile.
- We favour companies with products or services that promote a sustainable future that, in turn, helps drive their competitive advantage in creating a sustainable growth profile. We also seek companies with underappreciated ESG characteristics that can drive future growth or with improvement catalysts in place that demonstrate that they are on track to meet our expectations around issues tied to robust and sustainable growth.
- As an active manager, the team promotes and influences a company’s ESG trajectory through engagement.
- The fund adheres to a set of “core” exclusions criteria, defined to ensure alignment with market expectations around business activities fundamentally incompatible with investment products that have explicit ESG or sustainability objectives.

Fund risks

Geographic concentration risk: investments concentrated in specific geographic regions and markets may be subject to greater volatility due to economic downturns and other factors affecting the specific geographic regions.

Smaller-company securities risk: securities of companies with smaller market capitalisations tend to be more volatile and less liquid than securities of larger companies.

ESG risk: applying an ESG screen for security selection may result in lost opportunity in a security or industry resulting in possible underperformance relative to peers. ESG screens are dependent on third-party data and errors in the data may result in the incorrect inclusion or exclusion of a security.

Equity Securities Risk: These securities fluctuate in value and price in response to factors impacting the issuer of the security as well as general market, economic and political conditions.

Leverage Risk: the use of certain types of financial derivative instruments may create leverage which may increase share price volatility.

Global investment risk: securities of certain jurisdictions may experience more rapid and extreme changes in value and may be affected by uncertainties such as international political developments, currency fluctuations and other developments in the laws and regulations of countries in which an investment may be made.

Sector emphasis risk: investing a substantial portion of assets in related industries or sectors may have greater risks because companies in these sectors may share common characteristics and may react similarly to market developments.
