What were the Fund costs for the past year?

The table explains the costs you would have paid within the reporting period based on a hypothetical $10,000 investment.

CLASS NAME	COSTS OF A $10,000 INVESTMENT	COSTS PAID AS A % OF A $10,000 INVESTMENT
Class A	$126	1.07%

The manager has contractually committed to waive fees and/or reimburse certain expenses to the extent necessary to cap the Fund's total annual fund operating expense ratio at a specific amount. Without this cap, the costs shown above may have been higher. Please see the prospectus for the amount and the expiration date of the cap. Prior to or after the commitment expiration date, the cap may be increased or the commitment to maintain the cap may be terminated only with the approval of the Board of Trustees.

How did the Fund perform last year and what affected its performance?

U.S. equity markets rallied as inflation moderated in 2024, leading the Federal Reserve to cut its key rate in September 2024. Globally, inflation, geopolitical tensions, and sovereign debt burdens led to lower growth. In high yield, lower-quality issues outperformed higher-rated issues, as CCC-rated bond spreads tightened. Our asset allocation is weighted toward equities, where we see capital appreciation and dividends exceeding the returns of fixed income. We seek sectors with long-term growth potential, pricing power, and higher profit margins. We are concerned inflation could persist, leading to tightening liquidity and lower asset prices.

The Fund outperformed its blended benchmark, the Diversified Capital Builder Index, during the 12 months that ended September 30, 2024. Top equity contributors were holdings in information technology, industrials, and energy along with underweights in consumer staples and consumer discretionary. Broadcom, Leidos Holdings, and Micro Devices were among the top contributors. Underperformers included Adobe, McKesson Corp., and Neurocrine Biosciences. Bond contributors were our underweights in consumer cyclicals, energy, and communications. Individual bond detractors included Post Holdings, Spectrum Brands, and Iron Mountain.
