What were the Fund costs for the past year?

The table explains the costs you would have paid within the reporting period based on a hypothetical $10,000 investment.

CLASS NAME	COSTS OF A $10,000 INVESTMENT	COSTS PAID AS A % OF A $10,000 INVESTMENT
Institutional Class	$140	1.22%

The manager has contractually committed to waive fees and/or reimburse certain expenses to the extent necessary to cap the Fund's total annual fund operating expense ratio at a specific amount. Without this cap, the costs shown above may have been higher. Please see the prospectus for the amount and the expiration date of the cap. Prior to or after the commitment expiration date, the cap may be increased or the commitment to maintain the cap may be terminated only with the approval of the Board of Trustees.

How did the Fund perform last year and what affected its performance?

Emerging market equities rose sharply, led by countries within Asia Pacific, as strength from artificial intelligence (AI) and semiconductor demand, stable growth, and improving fundamentals bolstered China and Taiwan. India rose sharply on strong corporate earnings, positive economic data, and market inflows as investors revered its infrastructure investments and technological innovation. In contrast, weakness in Latin America was caused by higher inflation, weakening currencies, and political concerns.

Contributors included Bajaj Auto, on strong earnings and a promising outlook for two-wheelers and electric vehicles. Aircraft manufacturer Embraer had better-than-expected earnings and an upgrade to investment grade. Samsung Electronics Ltd. Pfd., detracted, falling after its HBM chips failed to pass NVIDIA's suitability for inclusion into its AI processors, as did Arabian Drilling Co., which faltered after three of its offshore drilling rigs were suspended.

We remain optimistic about emerging markets on improved economic momentum, accommodative policies, attractive valuations, a favorable emerging market growth premium, and low investor positioning.
